WEATHER TABLE.

The following Table (ascribed to Dr. HERSHELL, and revised by Dr. ADAM CLARKE,) constructed upon philosophical considerations of the attraction of the Sun and Moon, in their several positions respecting the Earth, and confirmed by experience of many years actual observation, furnishes the observer, without farther trouble, with the knowledge of what kind of weather there is the greatest probability of succeeding, and that so near the truth, that in very few instances will it be found to fail.

Explanations of Weather Table.

It will be seen from the table, 1st. That the nearer the time of the Moon's change, First Quarter, Full, and Last Quarter, is to Midnight, the fairer will the weather be during the seven days following; the space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

2.—That the nearer to Mid-day, or Noon, these phases of the moon happen, the more foul or wet the weather may be expected during the next seven days; the space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to summer, though they affect spring and autumn to a considerable extent.

3.—That the Moon's Change, First Quarter, Full, and Last Quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e. from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather; but this is mostly dependent on the wind, as it is noted in the table.

Though the weather is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring; yet, in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

Moon's Rising and Setting.

At 4 days old, it sets at, and shines till, about 10 at night

5	do.	do.	do.	11
6	do.	do.	do.	12
7	do.	at or near 1 in the morning
15	do.	at full it rises about 6 in the evening

17	do.	at half after 8
18	do.	about 10
19	do.	about 11
20	do.	about 12

Note.—This table is sufficiently accurate for the purpose it is wanted—that of ascertaining moonlight evenings.

United States Newspapers if re-posted in Canada, are liable to letter rates of postage.

Newspapers from or to the United Kingdom, sent by closed Mails through the United States, are liable to a postage of one penny each—payable on delivery.

With exception of these last, (which are not limited as to weight) a newspaper to pass under the foregoing regulations, must not exceed two ounces, otherwise it will be liable to pamphlet postage,—i. e. one penny per ounce.
